A look back at 2026

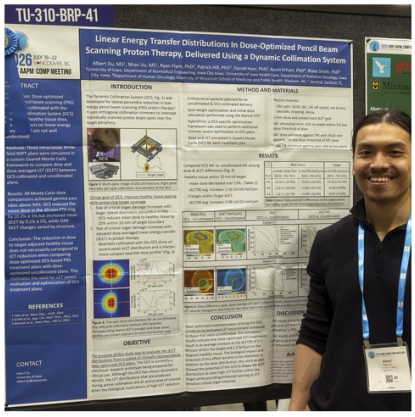

Your membership powered a landmark year:

- In February, AAPM convened the Empowering Medicine Through Physics Summit, bringing together leaders across medicine, science, industry, and policy to chart how medical physics can most effectively advance human health over the next decade with a focus on theranostics, AI, computational medicine, and emerging frontiers.

- More than 4,000 colleagues gathered in Vancouver for the 68th Annual Meeting & Exhibition, held jointly with COMP under the theme: Inspiration. Innovation. Impact.
- Our Spring Clinical Meeting and Summer School delivered practical, high-value education across the profession.

Looking ahead to 2027

We hope to see you at the Spring Clinical Meeting (Denver, April 10–13), Summer School (Boston, June 24–29), and the Annual Meeting & Exhibition (Columbus, July 25–28) — three more chances to learn, connect, and advance the field.

Your dues sustain AAPM's volunteer-driven Councils and Committees and fund the services and benefits tied to your membership class:

- Knowledge — AAPM reports and practice guidelines; the journals Medical Physics and JACMP; and organizational subscriptions to select NCRP, ICRU, and ICRP publications.

- Learn — discounted meeting registration, the AAPM Virtual Library, and the Online Learning Center, with an optional CAMPEP-approved MPCEC subscription you can add to your 2027 invoice.
- Advance — AAPM Career Services, the Annual Professional Information Survey, and optional professional liability insurance.
- Volunteer — opportunities to network, share best practices, and help shape the direction of AAPM and the profession by getting involved in an AAPM group.

If you have questions about your membership class, see AAPM Membership or contact membership@aapm.org.

AAPM is powered by people: people like yourself dedicated to the practice and community of medical physics. We do the work because it matters. AAPM makes sure we don't do it alone.

Thank you again for being part of AAPM.
